Frederick Nelson Cook

Frederick Nelson Cook, 90, of Montpelier, died peacefully on Nov. 7, 2019, after a short illness. Fred was born on Aug. 24, 1929, to Edward J. and Helen (Foster) Cook. He spent his youth in Cuttingsville and Mount Holly, and graduated from Rutland High School in 1947. From 1950-1954 Fred served in the U.S. Navy. He was a 1959 graduate of the University of Vermont. He was elected a state representative for the Town of Shrewsbury and was appointed by the Vermont Board of Historic Sites in 1959, where he spent three-and-a-half years overseeing programs at several Vermont Historic Sites. In 1960, Fred married

Barrie Brundage and together, they had three sons Christopher, Daniel and Richard. Fred spent most of his working career as the executive director of the Vermont Petroleum Institute, then as a lobbyist on behalf of the National Federation of Independent Business/Vermont. He also worked on the campaigns of Barbara Snelling for lieutenant governor and State Senator Susan Sweetser for U.S. Representative. After successful cancer treatment in 1996, Fred retired from active lobbying. He then established what became the Central Vermont Prostate Cancer Support Group, affiliated with the American Cancer Society's Man to Man program. He often remarked that outside of raising his three boys, his most rewarding initiative in his life was working with the cancer survivors who attended the monthly Man to Man meetings. The American Cancer Society recognized his efforts in 1999 and again in 2007, for dedicated service to the Man to Man program. Fred proudly served his community in various capacities throughout his long life. He was a member and former vestryman of Christ Church in Montpelier, the Montpelier Board of Adjustment and the Montpelier City Republican Committee. He served as chair of the City Hall Plaza War Memorial Committee and was master of ceremonies for its dedication. He spent many years as a Montpelier justice of the peace, in which capacity his sons were fortunate to have him officiate at their weddings. A member of Rotary International with 50 years of perfect attendance, Fred was president of the Montpelier Rotary Club in 1980-81 and district governor of Rotary District 7850 in 1987-88. He was an elected representative to the Rotary International Council on Legislation, a multiple Paul Harris Fellow recipient and a regular contributor to the Rotary Foundation. He hosted visiting members of Rotary's Group Study Exchange Teams from Australia, India, Pakistan, Mexico, Brazil and Norway, coordinating several of the group's visits to central Vermont. Fred's hobbies included studying Vermont history and politics, photography and motorsports. He spent many years as member and past president of the Vermont Auto Enthusiasts club and enjoyed planning for and working at various car shows in Vermont, notably in Stowe, Shelburne and St. Albans. He enjoyed driving his 1961 Triumph TR3A to these events. Fred worked to establish a VAE scholarship, given annually to deserving students in the automotive technology program at Vermont Technical College, which was subsequently named in his honor. Most people knew Fred as someone who loved to connect with people. Fred had taken thousands of pictures of friends, colleagues and family over the years, and he was always happy to share them and the stories that go with them, with everyone. He was especially proud of his sons and grandchildren, and loved to go to their school events, read and tell stories to the young ones, and go on bike rides. Fred was very close to his niece, Carole Hass, and her family. Fred was predeceased by his sister, Edith; his brothers George and wife Laicita, and Edward and wife Irene. He is survived by his sons Chris and wife Carmen, of Orleans, Dan and wife Becky, of Hinesburg, and Rick and partner Beth Diederich, of Worcester; and by his grandchildren Christopher Cook and wife Jill, Ethan and Owen Cook, and Shayla and Isaiah Kippen. Friends may call at Guare and Sons Funeral Home in Montpelier on Wednesday, Nov. 13, from 5-7 p.m. A memorial service will be held at Christ Church in Montpelier on Thursday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m. Donations may be made to the Fred N. Cook VAE Scholarship at Vermont Technical College; or McClure Miller Respite House in Colchester.

Remember This Photo From Last Month's Chit Chat

What a surprise to find an old picture of my house in the Chit Chat!! The house is at the crest of the hill going south on Maple Hill Road before the road splits onto the Straight Road. I have lived here since 1990, the year I was pregnant with my daughter Nettie. She was born a few months after we purchased the property. A friend of mine commented that I do "nesting" in a real big way! Doug and I purchased the house from a couple of gals we met at the gym who were talking about a poor pitiful place, where nobody had lived for nearly 5 years and which nobody wanted because it needed so much work. The greatest value in the place was a beautiful old rose bush planted near the corner of the porch in the center of the published picture. We looked it over and it certainly presented some challenges with foundation collapsing, no central heat, plumbing which depended on a gravity fed stream of water coming off the hill behind the house where there was a hand dug well. In the main room of the house was an old gas fueled heater that was the only source of heat and throughout the house was evidence of every possible way attempts were made to keep the house warm in the winter, cardboard on the ceilings, plastic on some of the windows, "carpets" on the wide pine floorboards which were fashioned out of linoleum. On the largest wall of the great room was a wall size paper picture/mural of the ocean and palm trees, certainly placed there to offer some illusion in the colder months of warmer places! We got real busy, stayed busy throughout the years and raised our daughters in what I always thought was an ideal setting. The girls might tell you something different. Wow, what some people will do to have a nice piece of property in the country!

Historically I do not have a real clear history of the house, and what I know I have learned from Ray Dana whose family once lived here, Hazel Devereux who was the first person to welcome us to the community and bits and pieces from others who have crossed our paths throughout the years. It was the main farmhouse for a large working farm as is evidenced by foundations of barns and outbuildings, remnants of farm equipment, stone walls which no doubt acted as fencing to contain and corral livestock and large stone lined "wells" which may have either supported resources coming in or waste going out of the homestead. We were also given a heads-up regarding the former farmers' milk check which may at some future time be found somewhere in the stone wall. We never found such check, nor have any of us had the time to do the necessary digging to find the treasure. So many other adventures were to be had.

In the late 80's the tract of property was purchased by someone from Massachusetts, presumably as an investment, was subdivided into lots and eventually sold to at least 3 others who have built homes and become my neighbors. People have referred to this house as being the "Howland Farm," although there is a Howland Farm Road off of Rt 155 and I have heard that the family moved here to be closer to the greater goings-on in Belmont!

I am sure that one could get a much more accurate history of this house from those who have made such studies but for me I wanted to share my joys in seeing a picture of my house, being here in the country, raising my family here, the daily return here after my days at work, and forever making home improvements to stay warm in winter, be a steward of the land in summer and, now that my daughters' rooms are done I can now welcome my grandchildren home in Belmont. Thank you for the picture.

The photo of the house in the last issue is located at the top of the hill south of Belmont Village and now owned by Carolyn Prescott. The east side of the Jackson Gore property abutted the original Ludlow line and became part of the new Town of Mount Holly in 1792. The General Assembly granted Abraham Jackson, Junior, and others the right to sell lots in the Gore. It is likely that a section of the house dates to around 1800. Maple Hill Road that passes in front of the house was the County Road that continued onto what is now the Straight Road and into Weston. The original Lot 68 would have been at least 105 acres and after several parcels were sold off and a piece of Lot 59 from across the road was added by Ethan A. Priest after 1838 the house and farm contained 157 acres.

Some of the land southwest of this area was sold to Ichabod Shaw, and most of Lot 68 was purchased by Snow Randall. The sale to Randall in 1808 may have been one of last pieces of property sold by Jackson before he relocated to western New York. The property passed to Snow's son, Isaac, until it was sold to E. A. Priest by Isaac's widow. Priest and his sons farmed several parcels including the south end of Straight Road and the land he and his brother Daniel purchased near the Weston line from Daniel Jaquith before 1820. With a growing family the house was likely enlarged by Priest to its present size. The last three of the 10 children would have been born in the house. Our family history mentions that Ethan's mother Eunice Warner Priest died in 1856 at the age of 93 when she fell down the cellar stairs.

Ethan's wife was Hannah Dawley, and sons Darius, E. Allen, and Charles Wesley Priest served in Co. I of the Second Vermont Volunteer Regiment in the Civil War. Ethan died in 1883 shortly after his son Ethan Allen returned with his family from Kansas to care for him. The younger Ethan Allen was known as Allen. He lived in the house until his death in 1893. When the estate was settled the following year by S. M. Dickerman all the property and farming equipment was purchased by Wallace Dana. He farmed it until his death in 1926, and his oldest son Tom farmed the property until he died in 1938. The property then went to his sister Mildred and her husband Will Standish. After Will died in 1948, Mildred sold it to Clyde and Catherine Howland in 1949 who farmed it for many years. Some of the land was obtained by the Howland's children, and the other lots were sold off when the Catherine Howland estate was settled and further subdivided after 1987. Photo's Left is the Ethan Allen Priest Family 1888 and right is Ethan Allen Priest Civil War Veteran on a hay rake 1887. Dennis Devereux

Mount Holly Snow Flyers

The Snow flyers have held several trail work days in preparation for the upcoming season. We'd like to "Thank" all those who have helped out to date. We still have a couple bridges and a trail reroute to complete before the trails open on the December 15th - that is depending on the weather & snow. We're keeping our fingers crossed for another good season like last year. We've had some snow & cool weather to date - just needs to keep it up.

Early Bird TMA's are available at the Poulin's residence on Hortonville Rd., the Belmont Store, Pro-cycle, Central Vermont Motorcycles and online through the VAST website. You can save some $$ by purchasing an Early Bird TMA versus the Regular Season.

Once again this year we will be presenting the "Best Small Town New Year's Eve Fireworks" over Star Lake. This is our 28th year holding these Fire Works - all made possible by everyone who supports the club's raffle items at Cider Days. Come enjoy the show & have a cup of Hot Cider.

The Snow Flyer's would like to "Wish everyone a Safe Joyous Holiday Season". See you on the "Trails." Mount Holly Snow Flyers, www.mounthollysnowflyers.org

Many congratulations to the Mount Holly School PTSA for another fabulous Halloween Celebration for the children of Mount Holly! The parents, who took over the reins for this event from the MHCA, outdid themselves this year. There were well over 100 people who flocked to the village of Belmont and the children (close to 100 of them!) were thrilled to trick-or-treat throughout the village, join in a costume parade on the Green, and grab a hay ride through town, compliments of Kevin and Patti Plew of Plew Farm. Ghosts and goblins, princes and witches, super heroes and wizards were all visitors to Belmont for a very special celebration. Prizes were awarded for the scariest, the best individual, and the best family costume...so hard to choose with so many uniquely creative costumes on display! Many thanks to everyone who coordinated this amazing evening and special thanks to all of the Belmont residents who opened their homes to the trick-or-treaters!

The Church's Stuff-A-Bus Campaign

Our parishes participated in our community's overall effort to seek food donations for the annual Stuff-A-Bus campaign. This year, our parishes gathered 4,150 pounds of food, up from 3,400 pounds last year. A great achievement! Additionally, nearly $3,000 in cash was donated that will be given in total to our local agencies whose primary focus is to alleviate poverty in our area. This collection of food over two weekends was a holy moment for us. Every can of soup, box of pasta or rice, and dollar given represents another meal on the plate of a poor family living right here in Rutland. Jesus taught us to feed the hungry, and I am pleased that our parishes took his command to heart for this campaign. The love and care of our community of faith was palpable as I stood in the sanctuary with the bags of food all around the altar. Blessed food. Blessed lives. Blessed Eucharist. Thank you so much for your generosity to our annual food campaign. I am so pleased that this level of giving is now part of the culture of our parishes.

I hope to see everyone this weekend for Sunday Mass and God bless you! Peace to you and your loved ones, Fr. Bernie

December 23rd
By Patricia L. Cisco

Today, December 23rd, another Christmas nears.
I try to keep tradition up while holding back my tears.

I know I have been blessed for all the many years of love and joy and family and times we had to share.

The presents wrapped, the tree is lit, the wreath upon the door, but pondering all the Christmases past and tears begin to fall.

This Christmas will be different, for some very special loved ones have received God's final call.

Then I dry my tears and say a special prayer.
Dear God, my gift to you is that soul I loved so dear.

I thank you for their life and love
I was so blessed to share.

Now all that I can ask of you is to keep them in your care!
I also want to offer you my each and every tear.

Now I promise to make Christmas joy for those I still have here and put a smile upon their face while we have time to share.
Amen

more on our waiting list. We expanded our school programs to include four school districts, and more are asking to join in. We served seven of our surrounding communities and provided a program for military families. 60% of the lessons we provided this year were paid for by funds we had raised. (FYI -- A lesson session for one rider (eight lessons over eight weeks) cost $400 or $50 per lesson, but doesn't completely cover the cost to Reinbow Riding for that lesson.)

Finding funding is an ever-challenging endeavor and occupies a great deal of our winter planning. After all, lessons may have stopped for the season, but those sweet horses that make our program go, still have to eat, have their feet trimmed and be gently cared for. And so we spend the winter seeking out and applying for grants, asking corporations and charitable organizations for support and working on our summer fundraiser—Summer Palooza—that each year our communities have helped to make a huge success. Thank You!

In this season of holiday cheer and giving, we ask you to keep us in your thoughts and to all we wish Happy Holidays and Good Health as we count down the days toward that warmer season.

Reinbow Riding Center

Dear Friends,

"There is something about the outside of a horse that is good for the inside of a man" – Winston Churchill

We live and breathe this timeless quote every day our barn doors open at Reinbow Therapeutic Riding Center. Our participant list has grown by 52% this year alone – serving over seven communities, 4 school districts and military families. The need however does not stop there with three more schools hoping to be added to our list in 2020. Our dedicated staff, board members and volunteers drive this program and while we would love to rest on our laurels, that's not how mountains get moved.

With the generosity of our community, we reached many of the goals we set for the program last winter-increasing participants and awareness of the program. Our value was further defined by the new students with new challenges that could not be taken on by regular barns. Our challenge is to make participants laugh where sadness was the norm, provide a safe environment where independence can be fostered and gain mobility in the body where it was otherwise lost.

Which all brings us back to the above quote. Horses motivate, they inspire and if you ask the kids, they listen. The burden we take on is that they cost, but with the results we have seen over the past season we hope you will agree that the program you support is validated by continued growth and success. Without your generosity we simply could not exist. Our budget is tight but by applying our endless creativity we apply your contribution in thoughtful ways that allow us to grow our mission within your community. In an era where screen time dominates our children's lives, know that your contribution gets them off the couch and into the saddle of endless empowerment and joy. Thank you Lynn McDermott, Board President.

All Tucked in for the Winter, But Now the Work Begins

As winter closes in on us and the horses get a well-deserved break, the folks at Reinbow Riding Center move from long days outdoors providing lessons to our riders to long days inside coming up with as many ways as we can to make next year's program even better. In order to do this we try each year to develop new and innovative ways to make sure we can offer our programs to anyone that may benefit regardless of their ability to pay. This year our participant list grew 52% and there are

She and representatives from the group of small towns made their case again for 24-hour batteries installed and replaced at telecom providers' expense, free technical assistance, and more information more readily available on back-up batteries for the customer. The Hearing Officer prepares a Report for the VT Legislature by December 15th, pulling from workshop comments and filed documents and comments on the PUC case site. Some final comments urged the PUC to expand its investigation to the telecommunications grid as a whole, looking at power, cell, internet and landline service and outages. Ms. Matthews noted that a power outage in the Connecticut River Valley coincided with the date of the final filings. One public comment submitted stated that with three to five days without power and people cut off from the ability to reach any emergency services, 'someone could die.' The chair, Mark Turco, called the work on this issue "beneficial."

Mount Holly Special Select Board Meeting - October 29, 2019 ~ Minutes

Present: Select Board: Mark Turco (chair), Ron Tarbell, Jennifer Matthews

Town Officials: Dan Connor, Jon McCann, Brigid Sullivan

1. Call to Order by chair Mark Turco at 7:00 p.m.

2. All stood for the Pledge of Allegiance.

3. Review Designs of Proposed Cell Tower – Sandra Predom rose to give a presentation, stating that she and several neighbors would prefer a design like that of the Richmond cell tower. She read a letter from Brett Wright stating that they had looked at a number of cell towers around the State and preferred the tapered pine design with branch density coming down to just below the canopy of surrounding trees. Mr. Wright wrote that he considered this to be a win-win situation for the town with improved cell service provided by a tower disguised as a pine so as to not detract from the scenic views. Ms. Predom showed several simulations of the tower, first as a monopole and then disguised as a pine tree from several locations in town: Fenn Road, Stewart Road North, VT Route 103 at Summit & Old Turnpike Roads, and from Hortonville Road.

Peter Smith, Brigid Sullivan, Dan and Nancy Connor, Ken Weinstein all spoke and/or stated they were in favor of the tower as a pine. Jon McCann read a letter in support of the design as a pine. Sandra Predom reiterated the desire to ask AT&T to disguise the tower as a pine, like the one in Richmond, with branches to the canopy.

Discussion ensued on the pine design, its evolution, branch density, branches to the canopy, eventual deconstruction.

4. Finalize Town Recommendation on Proposed AT&T/FirstNet Cell Tower Project – Mark Turco stated that the Select Board had received a number of emails, many from those in attendance at the meeting, and had heard from residents with various recommendations on the design of the cell tower. Ron Tarbell recused himself from the vote. Jennifer Matthews made a motion to welcome the project into Mount Holly given the importance of cell service in the 21st century with this project as a first step in bringing that service to town and as a building block from which to expand. She noted that there were numerous opinions on the design of the tower but that those who would see the tower from their windows and dooryards overwhelmingly supported the design of the tower as a pine. As such, she continued that the Select Board should recommend to AT&T to disguise the tower as a tapered pine tree with branches coming down to the natural canopy of the trees. Mr. Turco seconded the motion; the motion passed unanimously. Steve Hazelton asked about some of the specifics mentioned in the meeting. Mr. Turco responded that those would be included in the Select Board's recommendation both to AT&T and the Public Utilities Commission (see attached).

The meeting was adjourned at 7:35 pm. Respectfully submitted: Jennifer Matthews Minutes Approved:

Mount Holly Select Board's Recommendation on Proposed AT&T/FirstNet Telecommunications Project

The Mount Holly Select Board recommends the proposed AT&T/FirstNet Telecommunications Project to be located at 581 Stewart Road South subject to the following conditions:

- the monopole to be in the shape of a tapered pine tree with the branches becoming longer in length as they extend down the trunk to the natural canopy of surrounding trees
- the monopole to preferably have 2.5 to 3 branches per foot
- a whip antenna to be included for use by local first responders

With these conditions, we look forward to welcoming this project to the Town of Mount Holly along with the services it will provide both first responders and residents alike.

RVTC Leaders Speak to Ludlow Rotary

The recent meeting of the Ludlow Rotary Club (LRC) featured leaders of the River Valley Technical Center (RVTC), located in Springfield, as they discussed the role and objectives of that school.

Both Scott Farr, the Superintendent/Director of RVTC and Dave Culver, its Cooperative Education Coordinator, explained how the school has created a wide variety of technical subjects aimed at helping its students select a career path or enhancing their educational background.

They noted that the school, which services a number of Windsor County high schools as well as one in New Hampshire, is dedicated to ensuring that attending students gain an in-depth view of selected technical career opportunities so they may opt for those they find rewarding.

The LRC meets weekly at DJs Restaurant and other select locations on Tuesday for lunch. It always welcomes interested persons to its meetings. For additional information, contact an LRC Rotarian.

"Paleoindians at Jackson Gore" Wins 1st Place

Local Archaeology Documentary Earns Regional "Nor'easter" Award

"Paleoindians at Jackson Gore", the short (20-minute) documentary produced in collaboration between community access station Okemo Valley TV, the State Archaeologist, and UVM's Consulting Archaeology Program, received a 1st place "Nor'easter" award for Historical Documentary from the northeast regional chapter of the Alliance for Community Media, a national advocacy and membership organization representing community access TV stations.. The film documents the 2007 excavation of Jackson Gore and what was learned about the paleoindians. Okemo Valley TV Production Coordinator Eric Chatterjee was in attendance to receive the regional Nor'easter award at a ceremony held in Portland, ME on Oct. 31st (in photo on left, with festival organizer Jim Palmer).

Chatterjee noted that this project was the digital equivalent of an archaeological project in its own right. While the excavation itself studied humans who traveled through the area 12,000+ years ago, completing the documentary required piecing together footage that was recorded in 2007 with new footage from 2018, to form a narrative for the story. A phone call from State archaeologist Jess Robinson spurred Okemo Valley TV staff into action, to find a way to create something out of the old footage. Executive Director Patrick Cody explained "(Robinson) called last year asking if we still had footage that I and some volunteers shot during the excavation at Jackson Gore (in 2007). Thankfully, we did", adding that it had not been made into anything. Cody offered to help Robinson create a short documentary, using the existing footage and adding to it. "The findings at Jackson Gore are really important in the overall mix of (how we teach about the period)", said Robinson.

Cody affirmed that "this project is exemplary of the kind of collaboration on which we thrive, with numerous local, regional, & State partners. We may have overseen the process, but it only came to fruition because of the collaboration". He credited contributions from State of VT Division of Historic Preservation, UVM Consulting Archaeology Program, Okemo Mountain Resort, Ralph Cameron / Sky Shots LLC, Cavendish Historical Society / Margo Caulfield, Mount Holly Community Historical Museum / Dennis Devereux, Sydney Miele, & Emma Vastola. Moreover, Cody encourages others who have an idea of their own for a documentary, other film project, or TV show, to contact the station.

"Paleoindians at Jackson Gore" is available for viewing on Okemo Valley TV's website at okemovalley.tv/videos, and is periodically shown on the station's cable TV channels (Comcast channels 8 & 10 in Ludlow, Plymouth, & Cavendish; Comcast channels 20 & 21 in Mt. Holly; and on VTel system-wide, on channels 166 & 167). Patrick Cody, Executive Director (802) 228-8808; pcody@okemovalley.tv

Rotary Hears Speaker on Proposed 1% Local Tax in Ludlow

At its regular Tuesday luncheon meeting, a large group of Ludlow Rotary Club (LRC) members listened to Charlie Kimbell of Woodstock as he discussed that town's implementation of the 1% local sales tax.

Kimbell, who was instrumental in the implementation of the 1% tax in Woodstock, was invited by the LRC to discuss this issue since the Ludlow Select Board may consider placing the additional 1% sales tax before the 2020 Town Meeting for consideration.

He noted that, contrary to some towns who have implemented this tax, Woodstock was interested in using the additional revenue to improve infrastructure, enhance recreational facilities, and promote the town's economical development. Kimbell indicated that the benefit of this approach, rather than simply putting the new revenue in the general fund to lower property

Twas The Night Before Christmas

Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St Nicholas soon would be there.

The children were nestled all snug in their beds, While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads. And mamma in her 'kerchief, and I in my cap, Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.

When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter, I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter. Away to the window I flew like a flash, Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.

The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below. When, what to my wondering eyes should appear, But a miniature sleigh, and eight tinny reindeer.

With a little old driver, so lively and quick, I knew in a moment it must be St Nick. More rapid than eagles his coursers they came, And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name!

"Now Dasher! Now, Dancer! Now, Prancer and Vixen! On, Comet! On, Cupid! On, on Donner and Blitzen! To the top of the porch! To the top of the wall! Now dash away! Dash away! Dash away all!"

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly, When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky. So up to the house-top the coursers they flew, With the sleigh full of Toys, and St Nicholas too.

And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof The prancing and pawing of each little hoof. As I drew in my head, and was turning around, Down the chimney St Nicholas came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot, And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot. A bundle of Toys he had flung on his back, And he looked like a peddler, just opening his pack.

His eyes-how they twinkled! His dimples how merry! His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry! His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow, And the beard of his chin was as white as the snow.

The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth, And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath. He had a broad face and a little round belly, That shook when he laughed, like a bowlful of jelly!

He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf, And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself! A wink of his eye and a twist of his head, Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.

He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work, And filled all the stockings, then turned with a jerk. And laying his finger aside of his nose, And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose!

He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle, And away they all flew like the down of a thistle. But I heard him exclaim, 'ere he drove out of sight, "Happy Christmas to all, and to all a good-night!"

Clement Clarke Moore Miniature Biography

Clement Clarke Moore (1799 - 1863) came from a prominent family and his father Benjamin Moore was the Bishop of New York who was famous for officiating at the inauguration of George Washington. The tradition of reading Twas the night before Christmas poem on Christmas Eve is now a Worldwide institution and tradition.

Clement Clarke Moore (1779 - 1863) wrote the poem Twas the night before Christmas also called "A Visit from St. Nicholas" in 1822. It is now the tradition in many American families to read the poem every Christmas Eve. The poem 'Twas the night before Christmas' has redefined our image of Christmas and Santa Claus. Prior to the creation of the story of 'Twas the night before Christmas' St. Nicholas, the patron saint of children, had never been associated with a sleigh or reindeers! Clement Moore, the author of the poem Twas the night before Christmas, was a reticent man and it is believed that a family friend, Miss H. Butler, sent a copy of the poem to the New York Sentinel who published the poem. The condition of publication was that the author of Twas the night before Christmas was to remain anonymous.

The first publication date was 23rd December 1823 and it was an immediate success. It was not until 1844 that Clement Clarke Moore claimed ownership when the work was included in a book of his poetry.

Yes, Virginia, There is a Santa Claus

By Francis P. Church, first published in The New York Sun in 1897.

Dear Editor—

I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, "If you see it in The Sun, it's so." Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus? Virginia O'Hanlon

(The following is an excerpt from what is perhaps the most famous editorial ever written.)

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished. . . . Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies. You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if you did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that

Christmas Everywhere Poem by Phillips Brooks

Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight!
Christmas in lands of the fir-tree and pine,
Christmas in lands of the palm-tree and vine,
Christmas where snow peaks stand solemn and white,
Christmas where cornfields stand sunny and bright.
Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight!

Christmas where children are hopeful and gay,
Christmas where old men are patient and gray,
Christmas where peace, like a dove in his flight,
Broods o're brave men in the thick of the fight;
Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight!
For the Christ-child who comes is the Master of all;
No palace too great, no cottage too small.

there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world. . . . You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which

Only faith, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding. . . . No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives and lives forever. MY FIRST CHRISTMAS IN HEAVEN

I SEE THE COUNTLESS CHRISTMAS TREES AROUND THE WORLD WITH TINY LIGHTS, LIKE HEAVEN'S STARS, REFLECTING ON THEM
THE SIGHT IS SO SPECTACULAR, PLEASE WIPE AWAY THAT TEAR
FOR I AM SPENDING CHRISTMAS WITH JESUS CHRIST THIS YEAR.

I HEAR THE MANY CHRISTMAS SONGS THAT PEOPLE HOLD SO DEAR
BUT THE SOUNDS OF MUSIC CAN'T COMPARE WITH THE CHRISTMAS SONGS UP HERE.

I HAVE NO WORDS TO TELL YOU, THE JOY THEIR VOICES BRING FOR IT IS BEYOND DESCRIPTION, TO HEAR THE ANGELS SING.

I KNOW HOW MUCH YOU MISS ME. I SEE THE PAIN INSIDE YOUR HEART
BUT I AM NOT SO FAR AWAY. WE REALLY AREN'T APART
SO BE HAPPY FOR ME DEAR ONES. YOU KNOW I HOLD YOU TIGHT
AND BE GLAD I'M SPENDING CHRISTMAS, WITH JESUS CHRIST THIS YEAR.

I SEND YOU EACH A SPECIAL GIFT, FROM MY HEAVENLY HOME
I SEND YOU EACH A MEMORY OF, MY UNDYING LOVE
AFTER ALL "LOVE" IS THE GIFT, MORE PRECIOUS THAN PURPLE
IT WAS ALWAYS MOST IMPORTANT IN THE STORIES JESUS TOLD.

PLEASE LOVE AND KEEP EACH OTHER, AS MY FATHER SAID
FOR I CAN'T COUNT THE BLESSING OR LOVE HE HAS FOR EACH OF YOU
SO HAVE A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND WIPE AWAY THAT TEAR.

REMEMBER, I'M SPENDING CHRISTMAS, WITH JESUS CHRIST THIS YEAR.

Puppies' Christmas

~ Anon

It's the day before Christmas
And all through the house
The puppies are squeaking
An old rubber mouse.

The wreath which had merrily
Hung on the door
Is scattered in pieces
All over the floor.

The stockings that hung
In a neat little row
Now boast a hole in Each one of the toes.

The tree was subjected
To bright-eyed whims,
And now, although splendid,
It's missing some limbs.

I catch them and hold them.
"Be good", I insist.
They lick me, then run off
To see what they've missed.

And now as I watch them
The thought comes to me,
That their's is the spirit
That Christmas should be.

Should children and puppies
Yet show us the way,
And teach us the joy
That should come with this day?

Could they bring the message
